DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1-6, 9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Glesser (2004/0045170). See Fig 8.

Claims 1, 11, 17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Moser (2004/0261272). Part 104 is an operating lever.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 7-8, 10, 12-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Glesser (2004/0261272). The use of a flat release surface rather than a slightly curved one would appear to solve no stated problem and would be an obvious matter to be determined by an artisan. Regarding claim 13 the exact type of spring and its mounting would, absent a showing of criticality, appear to be obvious to an artisan.
